

Medicinal Leech Therapy: Treatment and Dressing Kit (Human and Veterinary Use)

Effective from 11.08.2015

Competent medicinal leech therapy requires specific equipment for the skilled treatment performance and after-care of the leech bite wounds. The offered treatment and dressing kit is designated for cases of missing parts of the complete treatment and dressing material. This kit is scheduled as a comprehensive service package. Three kit versions, adequate for one, three, or five leech treatment sessions are available. In addition, for the veterinary use, we offer a special treatment kit without dressing material. This treatment kit is sufficient for the veterinary use since the dressing of animals after the treatment is only necessary for prevention of household soiling. Furthermore, the use of wound spray is usually non-essential in medicinal leech therapy of animals.

Warning Notice: Medicinal leech therapy requires profound therapeutic knowledge, and should not be performed as self-treatment.
